TO EMPLOY 500 IN WESTERLY

Prospects of New Industry if Merger Materializes and Stock is Taken—Board of Trade Committee Acts—
Mrs. Thomas A. Barber's Death—Personal Mention.

Provided satisfactory arrangements can be made within three months there will be employment for five hundred more people in Westerly. It is understood that Warren O. and Louis W. Arnold, proprietors of the Westerly woolen mills property, located in the towns of Westerly and Stonington, in the section known as Stillmanville, have expressed willingness to sell their mill property at the taxable valuation, which is about $105,000. F. W. Batty, representing the Pawcatuck Woolen mills at Potter Hill, is considering taking over the plant and combine the two industries under one management, and if this is done assurance is given that at least five hundred will be employed in the Arnold mills within three months, which would be of great benefit to the town of Westerly.

In order to bring about this change and better the industrial conditions of the town, it has been suggested that citizens of Westerly should aid in securing the much desired industrial increase, by subscribing for stock in the added industry, so a proposition to that effect is to be put up to the board of trade to ascertain just what the citizens will do towards improving local business affairs.

There was a meeting of the board of trade committee on trades and manufacturers in the conference room of the Westerly public library Thursday afternoon. Thomas Hope, superintendent of the Pawcatuck woolen mill, explained the situation to the committee and outlined what it would be necessary for the board of trade to do in order to materially add to the industrial interests of the town. This committee could take no definite action, but assured Mr. Hope that the proposition looked good and would be taken before the executive board with the least possible delay, and hoped that action favorable to the proposition would be taken.

There was a lengthy discussion as to the merits of the bill pending in the legislature relative to the placing of children in homes, at the fifteenth annual meeting of the Rhode Island Association of Overseers of the Poor, in Providence Thursday. This organization is composed of past and present overseers of the poor in the several towns of the state, the Westerly members being Elban Wilcox, John B. Brown and Ellery Barber.

Mr. Wilcox succeeded Samuel H. Cross, who had held the office for many years in June, 1901, and declined renomination and Mr. Brown was elected his successor. Mr. Brown, in June, 1908, refused to accept a renomination, and Ellery Barber, the present incumbent, was elected to the office.

The officers elected to serve for the year are: Edmund Walker of South Kingstown, president; Philip Brady of Bristol, vice president; Thomas B. Maymon of Providence, secretary and treasurer.

The executive committee is composed of John B. Brown of Westerly, for Washington county; Matthew J. Cummings of Providence, for Providence county; and Timothy Andrews of East Greenwich, for Kent county. John F. Barber of Cumberland, George B. Carpenter of Hopkinton, John H. Brown of Warren, Philip Caswell of Middletown, Walter C. Wightman of Providence, executive committee; Matthew J. Cummings, Thomas B. Maymon, Edmund Walker, Walter C. Wightman, Adelbert D. Roberts, legislative committee.

An association of business men to be known as the Town Criers of Rhode Island, has been organized in Providence, and effort will be made to have branches in every town in the state, and with this point in view, representatives from Westerly were at the meeting for organization in Providence Thursday.

The objects of the Town Criers are to bring together for friendly discussion, men actively interested in all branches of publicity and sales promotion; to disseminate information tending to widen knowledge and higher standards of publicity and sales promotion, and to push the practical promotion by the most up to date publicity and sales methods of the industrial and commercial interests of Rhode Island.

Local Laconics.

Miss Grace Pierce returned Thursday evening from a trip to New York. Specifications are being proposed for a state roof for the First Baptist church.

Members of Narragansett council, Knights of Columbus, were pleased with their visit to Norwich Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Ellery Barber of Main street has as her guests Mrs. Harriet N. Kynor and Mrs. S. N. Bailey, former residents of Westerly.

Thomas Signarelli, who attempted suicide by shooting himself in the hip, while on Conductor Niles' train, Tuesday morning, and those that have been injured at his home in Peacedale, suffering more mental anguish than bodily pain.

NOANK

New Lobster Laws in Effect the Coming Season—Various Local Interests.

The time is drawing near when the lobster fishing season will open, and the stacks of lobster traps that have been stored along the waterfront. The fishermen have been busy sorting out the best of last year's hauls and those that have been condemned have been replaced with new. Many hundreds of dollars are invested in this business every season, and more expense will be added this summer, through the passing of a law which compels the owners of all motor or gasoline boats to install an underwater exhaust on any contrivance that will prevent the noise caused by the explosion.

A law was also passed changing the measurement of lobsters from nine inches over the entire length of the lobster to four and one-eighth inches from the end of the nose to the end of the body shell. This law will almost invariably require a longer lobster to be legal than the former law. It is expected that the fish and game commission will furnish new measures. In the same act there is a section which says that all cars, pots and other apparatus shall have plainly marked or branded thereon the name of the owner and that no number permit. This law, however, will affect very few of the local fishermen, as the majority of those employed in this industry fish in New York waters.
